Demonstration Here Tomorrow

Third Floor—Four Elevators

The Palais Royal Corsetiere-in-Chief, Miss Irene Chadwick, is lately from New York, where she attended the opening of the Salon du Bon Ton. Tomorrow—Monday—she will relate her experience and fit the corsets used in the New York demonstration.

The following is the invitation received by Miss Chadwick—for her name please read yours, change the location to the Palais Royal, the date to Monday, January 26; the time to 8.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.

The Royal Worcester Corset Company

request the honor of the presence of

Miss Irene D. Chadwick

at the opening of their superb new

Salon du Bon Ton

There will be special fittings of the latest corsets on living models, and lectures by prominent corset authorities.

39 West 34th Street
New York CityTuesday, January twentieth

from ten A. M. to four P. M.

Suggesting Tomorrow's Program

With the Corset and the now necessary adjunct—the Brassiere—the foundation of your new spring costume, the logical suggestion is that your first visit be to the "Salon du Bon Ton." Go to third floor and ask for Miss Chadwick. If you will allow her to fit the corset for YOU, the next suggestion is that you then ask for Miss Boyle, the chief of the Department for Gowns, etc. Miss Boyle requests the pleasure of trying on the new spring Suits and Dresses—over the corset fitted by Miss Chadwick. With both Corsets, Suits, and Dresses on this third floor and many private parlors, the visitor is assured a visit that will prove both pleasurable and profitable.

The Newly High Jetted Hat

With the new Corset, Suit, or Dress fitted—you are under no obligation to purchase either—the suggestion is that you now learn of the correctly new Hats. The one pictured is profusely jetted and cannot cost less than $7.50. With more elaborate trimming it can be made more expensive. The new Hats of Moire and Taffeta Silks, with upright bows and platings of maline, are here for as little as $5.50. Black is this mid-season style. The window display—on Eleventh street—will give good ideas, but a visit to one of the second floor private parlors will tell you of your ideal.

Don't Fail to See the New Ribbons

They are on this second floor. At $2.00 yard are 11-inch-wide works of art looking as if hand-painted; ideal for Sashes. And note the following:

Dresden, Moire, Satin, and Taffeta silk Ribbons, with moire edge; 4 to 4 1/2 inches wide; in all the best colors. 25c values, at.....	17c	Satin and Heavy Moire Ribbons, all the wanted shades; black and white; 6 1/2 inches wide and 4 1/2 inches wide. 45c a yard worth 35c yard.....	25c	Brocaded Ribbons, satin ground; pink, blue, and white; for sashes, girdles, and the hair; 5 1/2 inches wide. 45c a yard values for.....	35c

To be Found Only by Times Readers

Where?

It's a Palais Royal way—to do everything possible to invite the reading of its announcements and to favor the readers. Thus, for tomorrow, these $1.00 garments—to be 50c—are practically hidden in the 'way-back corner of the first floor, rear of the elevators. Times readers are told—and the hint will be sufficient. Be early for the daintiest Combinations, Princess Slips, and Separate Skirts and Gowns.

Headquarters—Utopia Yarns

The exhibition of Afghans, Robes, and Sweaters made of the famous Utopia yarns, with experts to teach visitors, should attract many here tomorrow. Go to Art Needlework Department, first floor, 'way back. Note that the new headquarters is always to be supplied with every "Utopia" need for crocheting and knitting.

Three Utopia Booklets—All Free to Patrons

No. 1—Ladies' Utopia Crocheted Kimono. No. 2—Ladies' Utopia Bridge Jacket. No. 3—Ladies' Utopia Crocheted Shawl. Each booklet with illustrations and full instructions for the making of the above quoted garments.

EXTRA

Last Moment News

With the closing of the store yesterday—at 5:30 P. M.—began the busiest hour of the day for the Embroidery Department Chief and assistants.

Nearly 10,000 yards of fine Embroideries—late arrivals—were arranged on tables in this southwest corner of the first floor. Ready for you with the opening of the store tomorrow.

Widths to 9 Inches

12 1/2 c

Values to 50c Yard

The quality is the question—the price comes last. The cheaply made Embroideries—that pull and tear in the wash—are never tolerated here, at any price. Think of only 12 1/2 c yard for warranted Swiss Embroideries in match sets up to 9 inches wide. Choice of both open work and blind effects in insertings, edges, and flouncings.
